Chlorine Dioxide (Clo₂) - Electrically Expanded Water (Ex W) - Hydrogen Gas - Hypochlorous Acid - Dimethyl Sulfoxide (DMSO)

Topic: Treating Tumors with Chlorine Dioxide

Edition 2022.11

HOW CLO₂ Destroys Tumors?

After a mountainload of searching and study, it is actually pretty simple to explain the science of how Chlorine Dioxide dissolves and eliminates tumors in the body.

Tumors have pockets of highly acidic material and extremely low levels of oxygen in their insides. Additionally, the surfaces of tumors are also highly acidic, which helps them to spread in the body.

When a Chlorine Dioxide molecule comes in contact with anything acidic, it “oxidizes” (which is an energy pulse/explosion at the tiniest molecular-level) and leaves a residue of oxygen precisely in the area of the contact. This occurrence happens for each of the quadrillions of Clo₂ molecules that come in contact with the acidic tumors. With the residual oxygen in that area, it facilitates (and even accelerates) healing in living tissues; specifically as it comes in contact with weakened areas of the body. In summary, both the oxidation and increase of oxygen literally work to disintegrate and dissolve the tumor structure as the Clo₂ comes in contact with the material.

To help understand how this works at a clinical level, the reader can study these 3 different patents that help to illustrate what Clo₂ does to tumors. One of them, filed in 2018 by an American Pharmaceutical company demonstrates a clear reduction and safe elimination of cancerous tumors when injected with Chlorine Dioxide. From first injection until complete removal only took a period of “days” to “a few weeks”. Another is a patent that shows how Clo₂ can be injected into tumors to safely “ablate” them, which means to melt, evaporate or erode. In both examples, it is simply the touching of the Clo₂ molecules on the outside and inside of the tumors that break them down.

Although it is possible to inject diluted levels of Clo₂ into a tumor in a living person, I am not familiar with the dosage amount. If I were to try this method out, I would make sure that the potency was diluted with saline water to assure that the .

Tumor Protocols with Chlorine Dioxide:

There are a series of protocols that can be used against tumors starting with the simplest Protocol 1000 (with mms) or the Protocol C (with CDS). If the tumors are more buried in the body tissues, then a Protocol 2000 is used so that the hypochlorous acid can help with the treatment of the causes of the tumors. If the tumors are more visible and close to the surface of the skin (or on the skin), then a Protocol 3000 can be implemented where specific parts of the body where tumors can be seen are treated. There are also specific topical treatments, such as the spray bottle or (Protocol K) and bath protocol (25 drops activated mms in a warm tub of water with no soap to soak in).

Regardless of whether the properly dosed Clo₂ enters the body through the mouth, the skin surface, injection or breathing, it works the same to safely destroy tumors and bring a person back to health.

My father has had bladder cancer for 14 years. Many times scraped, plastics of the ureter, even one kidney removed. In May, the treating professor-surgeon-urologist examined him and found that the bladder was full of tumors and they went through the urethra to kidney. He said that he could no longer operate on it due to age and sent us to oncologists who did not find a solution.. I started giving him CDS in June, starting with 8 ml in a liter of water, 9 times a day. We gradually increased the dose to 25 ml CDS, as the upper limit varied, because he vomited and bled. I also gave DMSO 3 times, 5 drops. On the recommendation of Mark Grennon, we also made sedentary baths with 200 activated drops / 10 ml. from both components/ for 30 minutes. Today, he was examined by an independent urologist and no tumors were found in either the bladder or the kidney. In a week we will have a new examination with the professor.

Cured my pituitary tumor during starting protocol! Praise the Lord! ♥

We have a friend who has been fighting a very nasty cancer for the last 8 years. He is a health nut and lives such a clean lifestyle. Recently he submitted to pin-point radiation as a large tumor on his neck was killing him. Then they found a tumour in his lung which he had removed about 10 weeks ago. Then they found 2 more spots on his lung. He has refused anymore scans as he will not be doing chemo or anymore medical treatment. He has been on MMS for a few weeks and is looking and feeling so much better. He had some Live blood analysis done and previously the blood showed, worms, fibrin and very unhealthy looking blood cells which were clotting up. Since using MMS the blood looks clear of worms, the cells look plump, healthy & normal. He didn't know if these tests were accurate, so had it done by 3 different practitioners. They all got the same results. One of his other cancer friends was given 2 weeks to live, has been on the MMS for a few weeks and has gone from bed-ridden to back to driving her car! So, it sounds very exciting.

My brother has been doing protocol 2000 on CDS for 7 days now for his brain tumors. When I picked him up he was paralyzed down one side of his body, could still walk but shuffling his paralyzed side. After just one week on CDS he has movement back in his arm and he can now lift his foot when walking. He has more energy more alert eating better and overall rapped with his improvement that he looks forward to having his CDS. He is up to 8 drops per hour and will probably get to 10. We will probably use mms2 in his last week of the protocol. Just wanting to let you know of his progress.

"I applied burn protocol to my mother in a possible tumor in her nose. Pure CDS spray every hour and from the first sprays, improvement was felt. In eight days it healed.

MMS ... working with a brain tumour client, who was paralyzed down left side of body. In 2 days, 60% of her paralysis has gone. Needless to say her & her family are over the moon.

My name is Nila xxxxx and I am from Paraguay. Five years ago I had an operation on my breasts to remove cysts. That took place in Santa Casa Campo Grande, Brazil. They removed more than half a dozen cysts from each side and more than 200 grams of muscular mass from the area where the tumor was branching out. I had to have plastic surgery for visual esthetics. Because of this, I had to take out a mortgage on my house to pay for my surgery and my radiation treatment. Two years after the treatment a tumor started to grow internally on the right side, it looked like I had 3 breasts. Also I had high fevers and pain in my whole body. Every day the pain became more unbearable and I had to return to my doctor in Brazil. After a monographic study he looked at me and told me we have to remove both my breasts and do chemotherapy. With tears in my eyes I asked the doctor what would be the cost of these treatments and he told me it would cost 20,000 Reales. I left the office crying and desperate because there was no way I could acquire that amount of money, unless I could sell my house. But that was not possible because I still owed on my mortgage and some payments were behind. I also was alone with 2 children to care for, devastated health and 2 university careers that were about to end(Law and Clerkship) I was working independently as a manager for a firm of a clerkman that is a very good friend of mine. Often times I could not make it to work and she knew it was because of my fever, pain and the impossibility for me to travel on motorbike. Apart from this I also have degenerative disc disease and a hernia in one of my disc.The fever became unbearable. One day my very good friend called and told me to come by to give me a remedy that her nephew brought from the USA for my husband. He said it can cure cancer also. I went and she gave me 5 ml of the Sodium Chlorite. She explained to me that I had to activate each drop with 5 drops of lime. The first day I took it 5 times and I slept better than I had in months. The next day I woke up with no fever and went to work. I continued taking the MMS activated with lemon and did not have a fever- only pains in my muscles. The 3rd day the tumor did not have the red spots and was a lot softer. The 5th day I had a very bad case of diarrhea, lucky I was in my office alone because I didn't notice in time and it was a complete disaster. I did not have time to get to the bathroom in time. It was like a cow was giving birth(well I live in the country and that was the only thing I could compare this incident with) It was like If I didn't see this, I wouldn't believe that the human could expulse this out of the body. On the 10th day my tumor was completely gone. On the 15th day I dove in the river and crossed sides, like I had done before (because I am a swimmer and I hadn't swam in over 5 months due to the fact that the fever kept me to weak). While I was returning to the lower shoreline of the river, I floated on my back and yelled with all my might" Thank you God"!!!!!! I thanked Him for this miracle because I am an orphan of father and mother and only I could take care of my kids. That is how MMS changed my life, 4 years later I am dedicated to share MMS in my country, because I consider it a crime if it is silenced. Today with the possibilities and the time that I spend in my work, I dedicate to restore health freely to the people with wounds because I also am a nurse and I see poor and humble people being treated badly and discriminated because of their wounds. In the name of God and the honor of Mister Jim Humble, I am creating a Restoration Center of the Genesis II Church in Paraguay. It is a small place that is in construction at the moment but it is to help clean the wounds freely to all who suffer from terrible illnesses.

I was one of those that posted in pages back. I don't remember if I specified my exact condition, and I'm way too lazy to go back and look up my original posts. But here's an update for ya. In Jan 2008 I had an MRI and the tumors (two) had either stabilized or slightly decreased in size. Doctor could not detect any growth from previous MRI. This was after about 7 weeks of MMS. In June 2008 I had another MRI. I get them every 6 months, at least for the next short while. The tumors had noticeably decreased by half.

(Renee)

The good news is that my sister's lung tumor was completely gone after only being on MMS for 40 days! She only took a one drop dose for 8 hours a day. By day 10, she started coughing up the tumor. I'm so very grateful for this amazing information and product! Thanks to all of you for your contribution to helping others regain their health! Blessings to you all!

I started taking MMS in Feb 2014. Bought it from exclusivewellnessclub. After research they have bottles with flip up lids that are easy to open and drop out of without having to use a syringe. I bought set of 5 (4 oz bottles)($125)- 28% Sodium Chlorite Formula and 50% Citric Acid Activator. Using 1 drop/1 drop of each. Got it left on trip but had not used it as yet.

Ended up getting food poisoning. Bloating, pain in chest all the way through to back. Hurt so bad could not get comfortable or go to sleep. Had food poisoning before this is how it starts. Went to car got MMS and champagne glass glass (easier to mix in because inside of glass goes down to a point) activated 6/6 drops, added distilled water then a little apple juice (no vitamin c or antioxidants in it) and I drank. Also activated 20/20 drops and put in tub of hot water. Soaked in tub, head, face everything soaked good for 30 min. Food poisoning gone in 30 minutes. No pain or discomfort left at all, was able to sleep and go to work in morning.

Kept taking MMS 6/6 protocol and soaking a couple of times per week in mixture for other problems I wanted to rid of. After about 2 weeks noticed that a nickel size brown spot on side of face peeled off like sunburn and went away and also noticed that a small lump on side of nose that had been there for 3 years had disappeared (no insurance so did not get it checked). My guess is that brown spot I thought was an age spot that kept getting bigger and darker was actually a sun cancer from looking at how this stuff works that is how it works on skin cancer it just peels off like sunburn. Not sure about lump but glad it is gone. Since also got rid of flu in couple of days when it took toll on my daughter for 3 weeks. Brain fog disappeared, arthritis not gone yet but better. Cancer runs in family, family members have died or been maimed by chemo and radiation (which I might add is FDA approved--what does that say for their approval for medicine, rather take my chances with MMS. On second batch of 5 sets I just bought, as I gave sets away to friends who had good results. Keep up good work. Thank you!

I have a 9 month old Aierdale/shepherd mix. About a month ago I noticed a lump on his neck, within 24 hours the lump had swelled so large you could see it from across the room. I took him to the vet where they put him on antibiotics-did no help. we switched to a different antibiotic and that did take down the swelling but nothing for the lump. He had his first surgery to removed the lump and they had to tke out 3 lymph nodes that were infected. took him home and within 3 days the neck swelled up again, more antibiotics and 2 weeks later another surgery, this time with a drainage tube, that seemed to work. Drainage tube removed and within 1 week yet another lump back to the vet more antibiotics which did not help and within 2 days 3 lumps. 2 that were squishy and 1 very hard. My friend suggested MMS which she took for her cancer. I read these testimials annd i felt very encouraged, I started him out with 3 drops and organic chicked broth, he slirped it down happily. within 3 hours 1 lump was GONE! I upped the dose the 4 drops every 4 hours. Started this on a Saturday morning so i would be home to monitor it. By Sunday afternoon-only 1 lump left and it was the huge/hard lump, now it was size of a small marble and soft. Monday morning almost completely gone-no swelling at all. He had no reaction at all to the MMS-will keep him on it until the last lump is completely gone and then see what happens.

Location: Germany
Three month ago on my scrotum a little hard pinpoint size small tumor ocured just beneath the skin. After two month the tumor had the size of a pea and it started to feel strange and hurt a little bit. I got worried whether this would be some kind of cancer, but I did´nt wanted to see a doctor, as most of us older guys wont do. Also because I was familiar with MMS already. After a research in different forums on the internet I cam to the self-diagnosis it might be a varicose vein. To leave it undecided what it really was I first rubbed in a few drops of DMSO. Than I made a three drop solution with MMS and applied it to the tumor just outside the on the skin. Additionally I applied a little piece of kleenex that was soaked with the rest of the solution for about half an hour. I have to admit I got a skin reaction, it was kind of burning. After three weeks now you can not feel anything of it at all. It is just gone.

I began using MMS in my NEBULIZER last year, with great success against the latest coughing flu. However, I'm not the great story. I've been working with 2 friends in the Aloha State. Tumors seem to be popping up more frequently and in the most difficult places. One of my friends had been dealing with a rather large tumor in his sinus's. He had been taking the oral doses of MMS faithfully. Which kept the tumor at bay, but never completly went away. After seeking advice from traditional medicine, he felt he would continue with the MMS. I suggested the NEBULIZER treatments. Within 6 six weeks his tumor had shrunk and for the first time in 3 years he was able to breath thru his nostril! My Second friend was diagnosed with a tumor in the frontal lobe of the brain. After 12 months of radiation, he was told that it was still growning. His headaches were unbearable. He started on MMS 5 weeks ago, both orally and using a NEBULIZER. He mysteriously fainted and was rushed to emergency. A new xray was taken along with blood tests... which revealed that his tumor was almost non existent, and his fainting spell was caused from dehydration. I am currently working with a 3rd friend who also was diagnosed with a rather large brain tumor. He has been living with severe Head pain and disorientation for over 3 years. He is just beginning treatment, both orally and with NEBULIZER.. there is no doubt we will see improvement.

Dose: Start with 1 activated drop. Add 2 tbls water. Pour into nebulizer resevoir. Breath normally until you get used to it. Then, play with plugging the pipe end and forcing mist thru sinus's and out the nose. 1 to 3 times per day.

Hello..thank you for the e-mails...
I am so glad to have found out about the MMS when my brother had tumors in the brain nothing helped him... until he took the MMS...the drops saved his life..
I have informed myself quite a bit about MMS but would like to know more...
Please send me the info of how to partake in the home course. thank for your most important work!!....all the best Margrit

My father was diagnosed with the following mentioned above 10 weeks ago, he was not having any bowel movements, he did not have any appetite and he lost 43 pounds in 3 weeks, when he walked from the bed to the kitchen and back he was extremely exhausted and all limbs were week.
I ordered the MMS for him and begun Claras 6 by 6 and increased it by one drop every day after one week, after 3 weeks he was back outside working with the workmen helping to build our health detox spa.
He continues to use it as much as 5 times a week and he is very well indeed, thanks to MMS.
THERE ARE OTHER COLLEGUES IN THE HEALTH BUSINESS WHOM WOULD LIKE TO COME TO DOMINICAN REPUBLIC TO DO YOUR COURSE ON MMS, IS THIS STILL AVAILABLE?
May the Rest of Your Life, be the Best of Your Life, Richard

As a 40 year old male, originally from Europe, I was enjoying an exciting life in the vibrant city of New York. It was Feb 2021 during the pandemic when I was temporarily in Southwestern Florida working remotely.

While here I had a sudden strike of abdominal pain scared me at night and led me to perform bloodwork. The lab results showed severely deranged liver enzymes, I also had mild signs of jaundice. The first visit to the local ER was a relief as no tumors were seen on the CT scan but was complicated by malpractice during an ERCP procedure. This required another prolonged hospitalization at a larger more competent hospital in Florida. While the hospital was suspicious about cancer, all biopsies were negative and I finally returned to NY with a biliary stent still searching for answers and a conclusive diagnosis of pancreatic cancer. After almost a dozen visits to specialists at the most renowned clinics in NYC, I was able to obtain the diagnosis of “adenocarcinoma of the pancreas”. While I was being scheduled for a “Whipple procedure”, a complex surgery, I had another scary local ER visit, experiencing medical incompetence. This experience made me to return back to Europe and pursue treatment there.

After confirming the pathology and an MRI, my surgeon advised me to start on a chemotherapy as the surgery seemed too risky due to the proximity of the tumor to major blood vessels. I received a few cycles of Folfirinox which I tolerated poorly and required hospitalization due to Cholangitis. A CT scan showed significant bile duct dilation in spite of a biliary stent as well as a lesion on the liver, I decided to explore alternative routes, considering an immunotherapy at a different clinic.

At the same time, I pulled out the bottle of MMS that I had carried in my luggage from NYC but never seriously administered. As a scientist myself, I was initially skeptical but I thought I had nothing to lose. I started low but increased rapidly to approx. 5 drops 10 times a day. When I had the initial exams in September at the new clinic, 6 weeks had already lapsed, only treating myself with MMS. My CA19-9 (tumor marker) was down to 150 from 350 (May). 2 weeks later it was 60. The CT scan showed no dilation of bile ducts and disappearance of my gallbladder sludge. A further MRI disclosed shrinkage of my primary tumor. Also, bloodwork had normalized (Hb, Protein, Potassium, Albumin). Clinically,

I was feeling much better, gaining weight and recuperating strength, and unexpectedly a hormone test showed high levels of testosterone, of which I had been deficient a few years ago.

I decided to concurrently start with Immunotherapy. A few weeks into it, my liver enzymes still being significantly elevated, I decided to start with MMS2 (Calcium Hypochlorite) as per protocol 2000. As I was nervous, I started on a low dose (50mg per capsule) and subsequently increased to about 800mg per day spread out over 5 capsules. My intention is to increase this to the protocol's maximum of 2000mg and then further up my MMS1 dose. I did not have any remarkable side effects since taking it, but my liver enzymes (AST&ALT) have continuously normalized since then. Obviously, as I'm now receiving immunotherapy concurrently to MMS, one cannot isolate the effects, but my gut feeling is that the addition of MMS2 is further helping. What I have proved sufficiently to myself though is that MMS has been effective as for a period of 8 weeks I did not have any concurrent traditional treatment and I had seen a tremendous improvement. Unfortunately, my journey doesn't end here, and the fear of this devastating cancer remains. However, I don't have the same feeling of desperation as I had at the time of diagnosis and chemotherapy. Experimenting with MMS and observing its results has filled me with hope.

Almost a year after diagnosis, I have a decent live quality being able to perform daily chores, maintain my weight and participate in light sport activity.

"I CURED my dog of three tumors and a mage that was making her bald and red flaking skin..

Also CURED my cat of Struvite Stones which vet purposed $2k surgery to remove them or he was going to die. Instead I dissolved them myself with spray and orally on both animals."

So my parent's yellow lab had a mass cell tumor on her lip and its not been going away with other meds. I was over there Sunday and put 2 drops of Sodium Chlorite in her water bowl and told my mom to do 2-3 drops of Sodium chlorite (only) every day she refills her bowl. Anyways, her lip is healed and the putrid smell it was putting off is gone. This stuff works for any mammal that has a heartbeat.

(Mary)

My husbands mole whatever it was gone!!! Thank you God for CLO 2. I have had a small mole on toe go away.
I have a large fatty tumor in my upper arm that is shrinking and all most gone.
Almost all of my skin tags under arms are gone I think 1 left 😍
I believe its helping hanging fat loose skin. Also along with me doing Keto and intermintent fasting.
My teeth look whiter. 😊
More energy, calmer think its helped blood pressure.
Thats what I can think of that I feel.
But so much more on inside we can't see.
It puts oxygen in our body.

(Julie)

I have a lipoma on my forearm that you could visually see. I had to search for it. It is like the size of a pin head now. Also have been putting a few drops in my dogs water bowl. Dayze (my dog) also has a benign tumor and it is shrinking. This stuff is amazing.

My wife used Moducare for her arthritis. If you can find the back story on that it's very interesting how the guy who came up with using it for tumors and some arthritis forms. It worked just like he said, you get worse for a few days before you recover. She no longer wakes up with her hands aching to the bone.
